

WHERE SECURITY PRIORITIES BECOME PRACTICAL PATHWAYS.

GSIS 2026 CONNECTS POLICY, TECHNOLOGY, CAPITAL AND RESILIENCE IN A CURATED INTERNATIONAL PLATFORM FOR SECURITY INNOVATION.

In 2026, the Global Security and Innovation Summit will once again bring together the people shaping security in a time of geopolitical disruption, technological acceleration and economic uncertainty.

GSIS is not a traditional conference and not an exhibition. It is a curated international platform connecting decision makers, industry leaders, technology providers, investors, founders, infrastructure actors and experts.

The annual gathering in Hamburg is the focal point of a broader platform designed to turn strategic dialogue into practical cooperation. Across the Main Conference, Partner Programmes, the Innovation Zone, networking formats and year round engagement, GSIS creates the environment where security priorities can become concrete pathways, partnerships and solutions.

Jointly organised by Hamburg Messe und Congress and the International Institute for Strategic Studies, GSIS brings together strategic analysis, technological capability, industrial relevance and international connectivity.

Partnerships

For partners and sponsors, GSIS offers more than visibility. It provides a platform for influence, credibility and meaningful collaboration at the highest level. By joining GSIS, organisations become part of the global conversation on how leadership, innovation and technology can strengthen security, resilience and trust in an increasingly complex world.

GSIS offers a range of partnership packages designed to maximise visibility, engagement and impact. Depending on the partnership level, participating partners can benefit from active involvement in the main conference programme, access to exclusive side events and enhanced brand exposure across GSIS platforms and activities.
